Logo

Logo Usage

Use your logo consistently across different backgrounds while maintaining clear contrast and legibility. Choose the appropriate logo variant based on your background.

✓ White Background

Use your full-color logo on white backgrounds. This is the preferred option for most applications like business cards, letterheads, and websites with light themes.

✓ Dark Background

On dark backgrounds, use a white version of your logo. Ensure there's enough contrast so the logo remains clearly visible and legible.

✓ Photo Background

When placing your logo over photography, choose a version with strong contrast. Ensure the logo doesn't blend into busy areas of the image.

What to Avoid

These examples show incorrect logo usage. Follow the guidelines to maintain logo integrity.

Colors

Primary Colors

These three colors should cover 80% of your design needs. Use them consistently across all brand touchpoints.

Base

HEX: #FF282E

Our core brand color used for primary elements, call-to-action buttons, and key brand moments.

Dark

HEX: #1F2937

Use for text, borders, and elements requiring enhanced readability.

White

HEX: #FFFFFF

Used for backgrounds, negative space, and creating clean, minimal layouts.

Color Shades (Secondary Colors)

The extended color palette provides additional flexibility, see the next pages for examples of how they can be used.
